Consent to use images, recordings, documents and artwork

During the course of their studies students will produce a variety of work. From time to time, sound recordings, photographs or video images of students and their learning are taken in school or at places where they are involved in an excursion or activity. These student works/photos/images/videos/audio recordings may be used in class activities or could be published by the School and Catholic Education SA in documents, school magazines, newsletters, displays, journals, professional development materials for teachers, or on the School or Catholic Education SA website. Adults may also create work for the School, or in the course of working with, or, for students and may also be involved in photographs, sound recordings or video images.

Educational sharing

The School and / or Catholic Education SA also like to make publications containing the student's work available free of charge to government and /or non-government schools and education authorities around Australia for their educational purposes under the National Education Access Licence for Schools (NEALS).
